Cross-center applications:

   Include a description of the unique science contributed by each center. Applications must be submitted to each TREC Center involved in the application. All involved centers receive the same application (i.e., include budget justification for all involved centers; include specific budget information, such as staffing costs, per each center’s guidelines).

   For Cross-center proposals, send a letter of intent to the TREC Center Director of each center involved in the application at least two weeks before the application deadline. The letter of intent should include the project title, the names of the involved centers and investigators, and a brief description of the project.

Completed applications should be forwarded electronically to lcc3@case.edu.
